The county commissioners for Prince George's county, Maryland, are authorized by act of the general assembly of Maryland, 1802, chapter 535, to issue and sell to the highest bidder for cash, at a public letting, eighty thousand dollars of coupon bonds of said county, payable thirty years from date, in denominations of $500 and $1,000, bearing five (5) per cent interest per annum reveals semi-annually on continterest per annum, payable somi-annually, on the list day of January and July.

These bonds are secured by the provisions of said law requiring said county commissioners each year, besinning with the year 1902, annually to levy and collect the sum of $4,000, to constitute the sinking fund for their redemption at maturity, and this $4,000 levy is the first lien on the county revenue of the year.

The assessed value of the property of the county is over $0,000,000; rapidly increasing in value along the B. and O. B. R. and B. and P. R. R. and around Washington.

The total bonded debt of the county, including this issue, will be $105,000 only.

The county commissioners of said county will, ou the THIRTIETH DAY OF JUNE, 1892, at the hour of TWELVE M., at the court house door, in the town of Upper Markovo, Prime Georges county, Md. offer the above bonds for sale, according to the said act of assembly.

TAMMANY'S LAST ASSAULT. Cleveland Forces.

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star. CHICAGO, June 22.—It is an awfully hard thing to reform a broken line, especially when a superior force is pressing hard upon victory. But such things have been done and it is not impossible for the broken lines of the anti-Cleveland forces to be brought into some sort of shape again. Yesterday, after a series of disasters, the anti-Cleveland people considered that they were defeated and no one undertook to express a doubt that Cleveland would be ominated on the first ballot.

The vice presidency and the platform were the only things felt to be open to discussion. Even the vice presidential nomination was regraded by most persons as being practically settled by a compact between Whitney and the Indiana delegation until late in the day, when the fact was developed that the Cleveland folks did not want to keep the compact and were shifting about for some other than Gray for the second place.

Up to the hour of the adjournment of the convention yesterday the anti-Cleveland people gave no sign of revival. They were hopeless and there was no thought of further opposition to the inevitable except on the part of the Iowa delegation, who were found to be loval to Boies as a matter of pride, and of the New York delegation, who were in a position where they had to keep up their opposition. There was Chicago and Atlanta, now at New York, have every evidence that a ballot taken at any time during the first day of the convention would have resulted in the nomination of Mr. Cleveland by such a vote as to make the opposition merely formal and insignificant.

Last night, however, the anti-Cleveland peoproved the act providing for railroad ple had rallied so far as to throw into the field an opposition to Mr. Cleveland with more activity and more despera than there has been heretofore, though not having the strength in numbers which it had before Mr. Gorman deserted.

A NEW ASSAULT. The anti-Clevelandites got together and de-termined to undertake the seemingly impossi-ble. The first move in this direction was seriously suggested at 3 o'clock in the afternoon yesterday, but it took no definite shape until late at night and it was tending toward morning before it began to assume what appeared to be serious proportions. Some of the promi-nent leaders, not delegates, who had come here to defeat Mr. Cleveland, and particularly to work for Gorman, had packed up their grips, paid their hotel bills and were about to start for home, having no further interest in the proceedings of the convention, when they were stopped by the appeals of the New York and South Carolina delegations with the suggestion that possibly something might yet be done to defeat Mr. Cleveland. Encouragement was given to the action by the fact that the Cleveland people gave intimations of a purpose to press the claims of the Syracuse delegates before the committee—a purpose they had previ-ously announced the abandonment of—and by the indication that the compact with Indiana might not be kept. Early in the evening at the meeting of the committee on credentials a resolution ofered by Gen. Bragg of Wisconsin setting an hour when the Syracuse delegates would be heard as to their claims to seats in the convention was adopted. The regular New York land men with them at their headquarters at the Auditorium and began a canvass of the prospects of reviving the opposition to Cleveland. A large number of delegates who had hour by hour become more deeply satisfied with the idea of being routed before the convention had actually begun began to rally about the stubborn New York delegation and the work of reforming was kept up all night. The scene was one of great activity and from 9 o'clock until morning more earnest and hard work was done than has been before since the battle began.

Delegates by twos, threes and dozens were where were assembled the great Tamman chiefs and a number of leading southern men Those delegates who were willing to pledge themselves to stand out against Cleveland to the end of the convention signed a roll, and for a while the list grew very rapidly. Before 11 o'clock within ten votes of enough to lock the convention had pledged themselves and they declared this morning that they were going to prevent Cleveland's nomination if these pledged lelegates stand by them.

To reform their lines effectively enough to defeat Cleveland after such a stump as the op-position experienced night before last and yes-terday seemed a thing next to impossible; but even if the move does fail utterly the effort and met in rallying men in a desperate case is a re-markable exhibition of pluck and recuperative

Mr. Cleveland's defeat would have been accom plished, though perhaps not to the advantage of Mr. Gorman. The votes they had actually pledged to support either Gorman or Morris at that time numbered 375, and twenty-eigh more were promised if Morrison were chosen for a leader. To marshal a force like this when the fighting has just begun and there is a fair field is a very different thing, however, from reforming a shattered line, and while it may be possible to reform effectively, it would be a

There are some structural weaknesses in the Cleveland forces, but the opposition is not in a position to take advantage of them in a man-

Cockran, who wanted Dickson's anti-Cleveland aged the Hill leaders in New York state to call the midwinter convention. Mr. Gorman promised that the Maryland convention should be held soon after the convention at Albany. It was part of the policy of the anti-Cleveland vote in the convention if a fight were made At this stage it was evident that the commitpeople to weaken the strength of Cleveland through the country by having his state instruct for Hill and by following this with an anti-Cleve-Mr. Norris, however, took the floor and it did not take him long to get worked up in the line

Dickson had told him repeatedly before the primaries that he did not intend to run.
Then he took up the charges against his personal character made by Dickson. He said: "For several character made by Dickson. He said: "For several years I have been the treasurer of the democratic congressional committee and have been associated with a leading bank and several insurance companies at the national capital. Would I be continued in these positions if I were such a ruffian and scoundrel as you have been told by that brute" (pointing to Dickson).

Norris was at once called down for his unparliamentary language, but the Colorado delemants of the democratic congressional committee and have been as made public of what had been done. The Hill men say that the meeting was held at the instance of Mr. Gorman to consider the opposition to Cleveland. Mr. Gorman to opposition to Cleveland and the fight against Cleveland at Chicago and promised them his support. He intended at that time to remain in the east, but Mr. Hill urged him to go to Chicago and finally he consented to do so. Arriving here, he continued to confer with the Hill people and at one of these conferences held last Sunday parliamentary language, but the Colorado dele-gate suggested that in his section it was not necessary to appeal to parliamentary rules when such language was need.

All of this, they say, they have now discovered was for the purpose of furthering the selfisl ambition of Mr. Gorman. When they laid before Mr. Gorman the results of their canvass showing that with his name they could pre-vent the nomination of Mr. Cleveland on the first ballot they did not show enough strength Norris from occapying their seats in the con-Norris from occapying their scats in the con-rention.

POLICY OF DELAY. The policy of the anti-Cleveland leaders, it The policy of the anti-Cleveland leaders, it was announced, would be a policy of delay. They would fight everything in the convention today with the idea of deferring the first ballot until tomorrow, when they hope to have their forces in better order.

They succeeded last night in getting from the subcommittee on the committee on rules a re-port against the unit rule. The announcement of this fact created a sensation at a late hour, when it came out. It filled the Cleveland men the part of the Cleveland men, however strong they may think themselves to be, to press for a nomination today. The antis want to prevent that, and they have considerable business with which they can occupy the time of the convention for the purpose of delay. The plan of the anti-Cleveland men is not to attempt to rally around any candidate, but merely to get delegates to cast their votes any merely to get delegates to cast their votes any way to weaken Cleveland, and if they get prolonged and bitter and not only would delay the balloting, but would concentrate the anti-Cleveland forces so as to show their full strength on a poll of the convention. If this vote should show less than two-thirds of the convention for Cleveland it would be a contra-diction of the claims of Mr. Whitter and Mr. enough votes scattered to prevent his nomina-tion on the first ballot to hold out against him without attempting to consolidate on any one diction of the claims of Mr. Whitney and Mr. Dickinson and would give to the opposition the confidence which it has lacked. The plan itself indicates how desperate the chances are that the anti-Cleveland people are taking. Their leaders themselves do not feel that they have anything but a chance for suc-CLEVELAND MEN CAUGHT NAPPING Attorney General Hensell of Pennsylvania cess, but they are plungers and take the view said after the meeting: "They caught us napthat one chance is as good as a thousand if it ping in the subcommittee and the matter wen that one chance is as good as a thousand if it happens to be the right one. They know that they cannot expect to again be in as good a position as they were on Sunday and Monday morning, as they have lost a considerable following that they can never get back again. There is a great bluff in their game, and of course bluff does not always fail.

But the rally is not all bluff by a great deal. The anti-Cleveland men are working with as much earnestness as if they had an even chance. If the first ballot does not nominate the lilinois taken. men may hold another cancus and rescind thei agreement to vote for Cleveland. ILLINOIS DISSATISFIED,

Not only are the Illinois men restive about the unit rule, but they are displeased with the combination believed to have been made by the Cleveland managers on Gray for Vice President. Illinois has two favorite sons for candidates for the vice presidency. One of them is a very dark horse—J. Lambert Tree. The other, Adlai E. Stevenson, has been exploited for some time as a good man for the second place on the ticket is core the presidency went to the continuous. time as a good man for the second place on the ticket in case the presidency went to the east. The friends of Mr. Cleveland were fearful of the trouble that other delegations would make if they thought that the support of Indiana was gained through a trade and they have denied constantly that there is any agreement for the nomination of Mr. Gray. It seems possible that if they have made a trade they will not be able to deliver the goods even if Mr. Cleveland is nominated.

There will be several candidates for the second place and if Mr. Cleveland is nominated on the first ballot, as his friends still profess to believe that he will be, there will still be a fight over the vice presidency, which will make the
